

International Conference National Identities in CEE - Reflection of EP Election

May, 28th 2014, 14:00

Anglo-American University, Lázeňská 4, Prague (Room 001)

RSVP at vendula.zenata@aauni.edu

Event description

How do political parties shape national identity and how do they communicate issues related to national identity to their electorate? What kind of strategies do they use? Does their approach even amount to a political strategy or are they truly convinced about their representations of national identity?

This interdisciplinary conference, which builds upon the research project National Identities in CEE. Political Discourses, Educational Solutions, brings together an analysis of political parties' activities in the sphere of national identity and a focus on one of the parties' target groups - the young generation.

Contact

Michal Vít
mvit@europeum.org
ceeidentity.eu

Conference schedule

Registration

14:00

Introduction and welcome

14:15 - 14:30

Vladimír Bartovic (EUROPEUM)

Panel I

National Identity as a Strategy Tool: Reflection of the EP election

14:30 - 15:30

Schizophrenic Use of National Identity in Polish Politics

Magdalena M. Baran (Kultura Liberalna)

Roma Issue and Slovak Political Parties

Alena Chudžíková (CVEK, Bratislava)

Standard Language as a Disadvantage: The Roma in the Czech Nation

Eva Eckert (Anglo-American University)

European Elections Entertainment: Visual Campaigns of the Czech Radical Populist Parties and the Humorous Counter-Response

Daniela Chalániová (Anglo-American University)

Panel II

Discussion Panel: The Use of National Identity Towards Young Generation: Political Parties in Focus

16:00 - 17:30

Jan Husák (ČRDM)

Ondřej Horák (COV)

Leonie Liemich

Michal Vít (EUROPEUM)

Closing event for panelists with wine & cheese